

RECEIVE WORD OF TRAGIC DEATH

Relatives in This City Hear of Sad Ending of Harold Carpenter in St. Louis.

IS SHOT THROUGH HEART

Weapon is Accidentally Discharged
While he Was Experimenting—
Mother Formerly a Hinchman.

Local relatives have received word of the tragic death of Harold Carpenter, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carpenter of St. Louis, Mo. The Carpenters are well known here, being extensively related and having visited here on numerous occasions. The little boy accidentally shot himself through the heart, dying instantly.

The boy in searching the top drawer of a dresser found his father's revolver. The revolver was never loaded but cartridges were loose in the drawer. It is supposed the boy loaded the revolver and that it was accidentally discharged. The boy's mother is a niece of Mrs. George Young of this city and was formerly Miss Harriett Hinchman. Several years ago Harold spent the winter in this city the guest of relatives. A St. Louis paper says concerning his death:

Both the father and mother of Harold Carpenter, 10 years old, who accidentally shot himself through the heart, dying instantly, while playing with his father's revolver at their home in the Euclid Terrace Apartments, Euclid avenue and the Suburban tracks, Saturday afternoon, were so grief-stricken Saturday night that physician had to be called in to attend them.

Mrs. Carpenter was delirious and was constantly calling the boy's name. The father paced the floor, sobbing over the fate of his only son.

The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Monday from the family home, and interment will be in Valhalla Cemetery. John J. Layton Mauze, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services.

The father, Albert Lawrence Carpenter, coffee broker and head of A. L. Carpenter Company, 707 Clark avenue, said that Harold's classmates at the Washington School would not be permitted to attend the funeral or view the body. He said he considered it far too tragic a circumstance to be allowed to leave its impression on the minds of youths.

The 38-caliber revolver with which Harold shot himself was in top drawer of a dresser in the bedroom. It was not loaded, but cartridges were always kept loose in the drawer. The boy is supposed to have been experimenting to see if he could load the weapon when it was accidentally discharged.

LEG IS BROKEN.

Miss Anna Brown of Milroy, who has been an invalid for years, suffered a broken bone in her leg between the knee and the ankle Tuesday and is now compelled to remain in bed. She has used an invalid chair for some time, and the manner which the bone was broken is uncertain.

FOUR MORE DAYS.

Taxpayers are reminded that only four days remain for filing their mortgage exemptions. Next Wednesday, the last day of April, will be the last opportunity and the office force at the auditor's office urges people to file their exceptions as soon as possible.

PREPARE FOR HEALTH WEEK

Health Officers Expect Much Good to Result.

Great preparations are being made for the celebration of health week here next Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The exhibit to show what may be done to preserve health will be in the court house assembly room, where most of the day meetings will be held. Practically the same program is being carried out in Shelbyville this week and large crowds are attending. The sanitary survey of the city is expected to reap good results.

Harry Bailey, eighteen years old, died at the home of his father, Warren Bailey, in Orange township, one and a half miles southeast of Blue Ridge, yesterday. His death was caused by yellow jaundice, which is believed to have been brought on by exposure in the recent high water.

During the worst part of the flood at Indianapolis he was in that city rescuing relatives of the family among them his aunt, Mrs. James Bailey, and daughter, Grace. He carried the women from their home in water that came to his armpits. Shortly afterward he fell ill and jaundice developed.

His death is an unusually sad one as he was robust and powerful and of athletic physique. He was industrious and kind-hearted and popular with all who knew him, and his many friends will deeply regret his untimely death.

He was born in Indianapolis, October 2, 1895, but nearly all of his life was spent as a resident of Shelby county. The family recently removed from the Waldron community to Orange township. His mother died about two years ago.

Surviving him are his father, step-mother, his grandmother Bailey, his grandparents Reicker, and a brother David Bailey.

The funeral services will be held the Valley church, south of Waldron at ten o'clock Saturday morning, the Rev. George Schwartz, of St. Paul, officiating, and the interment will be made in the Ogden cemetery. The cortege will leave the house at eight o'clock.

HELP FROM KANSAS.

R. L. Innis is in receipt of $7.50 from a relief committee in Sterling, Kansas, which was sent here for flood sufferers and Mr. Innis forwarded it on to Brookville for the fund there. The Rev. McGary, for a number of years pastor of the U. P. church here, is located at Sterling now, and Mr. Innis' name was given to the committee by him.

Another month of school is being held in Raleigh to give those who failed to pass in the eighth grade a chance to make up the work and take another examination. Alfred Hall, of Fairview, is the teacher.

DECISION IS IN FAVOR OF CITY

Appellate Court Reverses Hancock
Circuit Court in Morrow Damage Suit Pending Since 1909.

BECAUSE OF A TECHNICALITY

Holds She Didn't Serve Notice on City of Intention to Sue 60 Days After Mishap.

The appellate court of Indiana yesterday reversed the decision of the Hancock circuit court in the case of the City of Rushville against Emma Morrow, finding for the city. The reversal was made on technical grounds.

This decision marks the close of a long legal battle which began in 1909 when Emma Morrow brought suit against the city for five thousand dollars damages. It was finally taken to the appellate court when a jury in the Hancock circuit court at Greenfield awarded the Morrow woman a thousand dollars damages.

The plaintiff in the case was a domestic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Carr in 1909. One August evening of that year she, together with some of the Carr children, started to drive out Fifth street in a carriage. At that time repairs to the water mains in Arthur street were being made. The Morrow woman turned south into Arthur street from Fifth and the vehicle overturned, throwing her and the children out. She drove the horse into a rope which was up to stop traffic.

She brought suit against the city for five thousand dollars and took a change of venue to Shelby county. Judge Will M. Sparks was on the bench in this circuit then. During the course of the hearing of the case it developed that she had not given the city notice that she intended to bring suit.

A recent act of the legislature at that time provided that a person seeking damages from a city for injuries must formally notify the city officials that a suit was to be instituted within sixty days after the accident. The Morrow woman couldn't prove she gave the notice according to the law and the court held that she had no case.

Her attorneys dismissed the suit and promptly filed another one here, similar in every respect to the first one. The plaintiff took a change of venue to Hancock county. During the above procedure George Young was the city attorney and Smith, Cambren and Smith were retained to assist in the defense. When the case came up for trial in Greenfield, a change in administration had taken place here and Howard E. Barrett was the city attorney. The same law firm and the former city attorney assisted in the defense at Greenfield.

A demurrer to the complaint was sustained, as in the first case, on the same grounds that the Morrow woman had not given the city the sixty-day notice of intention to sue. Her attorneys filed an amended complaint setting out in detail the correspondence between her attorneys and the city attorney previous to the time the first suit was filed. They claimed the correspondence was the same as a notice since the city attorney knew a suit was to be filed even though the formality prescribed by the law was not used.

A demurrer to two paragraphs of the amended complaint was sustained but the third paragraph was held good and the case was set for trial. The jury decided that even though the Morrow woman had not followed the law in every detail in

TESTIFIES IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Al C. Varner of Charlottesville, Charged With Shooting With Intention to Kill, on Stand.

TRIAL IS ON AT NEWCASTLE

Outgrowth of Shooting at Knights-town When Russell Hayes Was Hurt—Lifelong Friends.

The state in the case against Al C. Varner of Charlottesville, who conducts a coal and ice business at Knightstown, charged with shooting with intent to commit murder, rested late yesterday afternoon in the trial which is being heard in the Henry circuit court, at Newcastle and the defendant immediately went on the stand in his own behalf.

The case is the outgrowth of the shooting of Russell Hayes by Varner in Knightstown, March 18, of this year. The alleged murder attempt took place in front of the Miller pool room in the Main street in Knightstown.

Varner testified that he had absolutely no recollection of the occurrences on the night of March 18. He says he woke up the following morning in the lockup and was then informed of the shooting. All the evidence had been submitted by 3:30 o'clock, but the arguments were yet to be made. It was believed that the jury would get the case this evening.

Young Hayes, the alleged victim of Varner, was the first witness, says the Newcastle Times says. He testified that himself and Varner were in the pool room before mentioned, on the night of the shooting. They had been close friends for a long time. In fact, Hayes had at one time worked for Varner. Hayes is an automobile driver and tester, and at one time was employed at the Maxwell plant and at another time had driven Varner's car. On the night in question the two became involved in a friendly argument as to the speed and power of a Cadillac machine. Varner went out on the street and seemingly in good humor. Hayes soon followed and Varner made an insulting remark. The two grappled, as Hayes testified, in fun, and Varner, becoming angry, was knocked down by Hayes.

Hayes says that he then stepped to the sidewalk and that he thought Varner was replacing a whiskey bottle in his pocket, whereas he was in the act of drawing the gun. In a second the shot was fired and Hayes was taken to a physician's office for treatment. The scar near his neck was exhibited to the jury.

The revolver was a cheap affair and was identified as the one taken from Varner by Charles Martin, the Knightstown marshal, who arrested him.

Hayes testified that he still carried the bullet and that his arm had been rendered stiff thereby.

Considerable difficulty was encountered in securing a jury suitable to both the state and defense and it was not until nearly 11 o'clock that the introduction of evidence was commenced.

OILING LAW APPLIED.

Columbus Republican: Greencastle has solved the dust problem. A committee of representative citizens met and enthusiastically declared for oiled streets. The oiling will be done by the city the cost being charged to the abutting property owners. The matter will be conducted systematically, as all dust and trash will be removed from the streets before oiling.

The C. H. & D. is in trouble again. When a freight was taking the north siding which opens on the main line in front of the depot, a car load of coal jumped the track, tearing up four rails. The eastbound passenger, due here at 11:39 a. m., waited about an hour and then detoured over the Big Four, thence to the J. M. & I. and over a spur to the C. H. & D. main line again. The westbound passenger, due at 11:17, arrived about one o'clock and had to make the same circuit around the wreck.

SHERIFF FINDS BARREL OF BEER

DAVE JACKSON IS IN JAIL

Well Timed Raid Results in Capture of Fresh Supply of Booze.
Jackson Denies Guilt.

Dave Jackson, a well-known resident of Knightstown, is in jail on a blind tiger charge, his house having been raided by Sheriff Kirk and Deputy Yost Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock according to the Newcastle Times. A barrel of beer from which but few bottles had been removed, was confiscated and brought to jail. About the house were found from fifty to a hundred empty bottles and other evidence that liquor was handled as a regular thing.

The raid followed the visit of three "dry" workers to Prosecutor Evans on Wednesday morning. After disclosing their suspicions the three Knightstown people left and awaited developments. A search warrant was issued to the sheriff, and as it was tipped off that a fresh supply of beer had just been received, the officials lost no time in getting into action.

The alleged sales were made at the Jackson home, and it is said that he has done a thriving business for some weeks. Sheriff Kirk entered the home while Deputy Yost did guard duty and was successful in stopping four witnesses who made a break for the open when the sheriff stepped into the kitchen. After arresting Jackson and securing the names of the four men in the place at the time, the men were released.

Jackson claims that he is innocent of the charges and that the beer was for personal use only. Whether or not that is the case remains to be seen, but it is known that many men have been visiting the Jackson place and that some of them have been more or less intoxicated on many occasions.

The "wet" and "dry" fight in Wayne township is at its height and for that reason the raid was well timed. Following so closely on the Vern Wink transactions it is believed by the wiseacres that the election which occurs shortly will be materially affected.

Jackson was unable to give bond and was brought to jail. The officers left here at 8 o'clock in a Stanley automobile, with bill Big Ramsey at the wheel, and by 10 o'clock both Jackson and the contraband beer were in safe keeping at the jail.

TO PUT STOP TO COMMON ABUSE

Measure Passed by Last Legislature
Prohibits Gypsies From Camping on Any Highway.

PROVISION TO PROTECT PARKS

Nomads Must Have Consent of Owner of Land Adjoining The Site
They Choose For Camp.

One act of the last legislature contemplated stopping the abuse that is heaped on many Indiana communities about this time every year, and which has caused Rushville people some concern the last week. It pertains to gypsies and wanderers who infest this section of the United States as the warm months approach.

The act sets forth that "it shall be unlawful for any band of gypsies, wanderers, travelers, or other persons to camp in tent, wagon, or otherwise, on any public highway in this state, or on lands adjacent thereto, without consent of the owners of the land abutting on the highway where such camping place is made."

This measure, at a stroke, places in the hands of every county sheriff the power to oust gypsies or any other wandering vagrants falling within the popular comprehension of that term, from any camping ground or stamping ground they settle upon, unless they have the consent of the owner of it or the land adjoining it. This power, it is assured, will be judiciously used in this county, but it will be used constantly. By means of it, farmhouse chicken reserves will be saved many a midnight visitation, and roadsides will no longer be the scene of slovenly and disreputable outfits which have infested them too often in the past.

Perhaps as important as any other effect of the law will be its protection to parks. The city park, for instance, has suffered heretofore by occupation by tribes of mendicant beggars or skinflint traders, and the definite authority to send these visitors on their way seemed to be hidden, if, indeed, it was provided in the law at all.

The act further puts a ban on vagrancy in general, and sets forth that anyone guilty of it, or of violation of the camping provisions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. The punishment is a fine, anywhere within $25, to which a jail sentence up to thirty days may be added. The law will go into effect with Governor Ralston's proclamation.

TEMPERANCE FORCES ACTIVE.

In view of the local option election to be held in Knightstown next Monday the temperance forces of the town and township have engaged Co. Ritter of Indianapolis to deliver an address at a mass meeting of all the churches Sunday night. Luther O'Neill and Charles Collins have already applied for liquor licenses.

MILROY HOTEL SOLD.

Frank Rardin has purchased the Milroy hotel of E. O. Rawlings, whose wife died recently, and will take possession the first of May. Mr. Rawlings will remain in Milroy.

Hugh Cowan of Milroy had a severe attack of lumbago, which caused serious heart trouble, one day this week, but latest reports are that he is not in danger. Mr. Cowan was rapidly recovering from an operation for appendicitis he underwent here several weeks ago.

BOSS MURPHY GETS A FLEA IN HIS EAR

Sulzer Announces a Declaration of Independence.

Albany, N. Y., April 25.—The breach between Governor Sulzer and Charles F. Murphy, Democratic state leader, has been widened by Sulzer's veto of the Democratic state organization's primary bill and asserting that the legislature ought not to adjourn until it has passed his bill providing for the abolition of the state conventions and other primary reforms.

The governor was caustic in his veto message, asserting that the state organization's bill "begs the question," is a "betrayal of the people," a "glaring breach of faith," is "patchwork, a fraud, and a makeshift."

In addition, when he learned that the senate confirmed only his candidates for the supreme court bench in New York, the governor notified the party's leader in the senate that the legislature could not expect him to act favorably on any legislation until his other nominations for highway commissioner, labor commissioner, commissioner of economy and efficiency, and superintendent of state prisons are confirmed.

Then Governor Sulzer, in high dudgeon, shut himself up in his private office and wrote his veto of the party primary bill. It had not been sent to him from the senate, but he had his message ready when it arrived, and sent a messenger scurrying back upstairs with it.

"I indulge the hope," he said, "that after the veto message is read and digested no one in the state, and especially in the legislature, will have any further doubt as to my mental sincerity on direct primaries."

Legislators resented the tone of the governor's veto message when its contents became known, and took it as tangible evidence of the fact that hereafter he means to go ahead independently of Charles F. Murphy and the state organization.

Washington, April 25.—Frank L. Polk, former head of the municipal civil service commission, probably will be the next collector of the port of New York. It is said that President Wilson has decided to appoint Mr. Polk notwithstanding strong opposition of Senator O'Gorman to this nomination. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has made a strong personal effort to have Polk named for this important post.

RESCUE PARTY IN DIFFICULT POSITION

Many Bodies In Wrecked Mine May Never Be Found.

Washington, Pa., April 25.—Coming from the depths of the wrecked Cincinnati mine of the Pittsburgh coal company, rescuers declare that the dead will not run less than 120, with a possibility that the number may be greater than this. That the exact number of dead may never be known seems highly probable, for indications are that it will be impossible to reach many of the bodies.

Eighteen bodies have been brought out of the mine and taken to the morgue. The rescue parties are hourly encountering great difficulties. The pumps are out of order and there is imminent danger of the mine flooding. Some of the drains are running full of water and others have clogged and overflowed. Rescue parties seeking bodies are working in a foot of water.

It is now believed, although nothing official can be obtained, that there were two explosions, one close after the other. The first explosion is believed to have been of gas probably ignited by a miner with an open lamp. Soon after this it is thought there was a dust explosion, this second explosion probably causing many deaths.

WILL LEGISLATE AS IT SEES FIT

This Is the Attitude of California Legislature.

DOCTRINE OF STATE RIGHTS

Is Upheld by Governor Johnson, Who Can See No Reason For Such a Stir of Public Opinion Throughout the Country, Declaring That California Should Be Allowed to Make Her Own Laws Without Interference.

Sacramento, Cal., April 25.—Governor Johnson, in an effort to justify the position of the legislature and people of California after the sending of telegrams to President Wilson which were said by many members of the legislature to be insulting in their tone, has issued a statement in which he upholds the Democratic doctrine of state rights and says that California should be able to legislate as it sees fit without such a stir of public opinion throughout the whole country. There is no reason, he maintains, why California should not be allowed to pass laws without interference from the federal government or anyone else.

While the telegrams sent to President Wilson indicated that the legislature will do as it pleases in the matter of alien land bills, the alien land bill to become a law, if the bill becomes a law this session, will not be drawn and ready for the legislature until after Secretary of State Bryan has seen it. Senator Newton Thompson of Los Angeles asserted that there would be no hurry in drawing the bill, and that it would be time enough to present it when Secretary Bryan arrives.

TO PLACATE THE JAPANESE

This Is the Present Effort of the Administration.

Washington, April 25.—Secretary Bryan left for Sacramento after a final conference with President Wilson at the White House, to counsel with the state legislature in the hope that the difficulties which have arisen from the anti-Japanese agitation may be cleared up.

Just before his departure Mr. Bryan said: "I go hopefully but with a full realization of the responsibility. The purpose of my visit is to determine in what way the present situation can be remedied."

The secretary would not say specifically that he intended to try to bring about the enactment of a law which will not discriminate against Japanese residents of California with regard to land ownership. From information obtainable, however, the belief has been formed that the administration at present intends to deal with the situation from the Japanese viewpoint rather than from that of the Californians, and to shape the California legislation as nearly as possible to coincide with the wishes of the Japanese government in the expectation that if the final results are not entirely satisfactory, at least his government will be in a better position to answer the formal objections of Minister Chinda.

Mr. Wilson and his advisers, it is understood, feel that the course they are following certainly will result in the establishment of a better feeling toward the national government both by the Japanese lower classes, who are responsible for the war uprisings reported in the Tokio dispatches, and by the Japanese government itself.

President Wilson himself was the authority for the statement that the situation had come to a standstill and that no developments were expected until Secretary Bryan reached Sacramento. The president made it clear that at present the best of feeling exists between the Japanese ambassador and the United States authorities.

Black Hawk Planter

Have plenty of them on hands, with Roller Bearing Disc Openers. They say they are the best Furrow Openers that ever were put on a planter. If you want the best one made on earth today, buy the Black Hawk Planter, for the reason that I have tried all of them made today and have found nothing better. Sam Young says that J. W. Tompkins won't tell you a lie, if he knows it. Sam says he thinks the Black Hawk Planter is the best one he ever saw work, and Sam won't lie. I have no stock in the Planter business, but Tompkins has them all beat to a standstill when it comes to Corn Planters.

Five Reasons for the Popularity of this Car

$1850 Marion 48-A

SIZE—A big roomy five passenger touring car. Wheelbase 120 inches. Few cars in any community are as large, dignified and impressive as the 48-A.

STYLE—Every line of this car, its deep rich color and harmonious design make its class self-evident, and mark its owner as a man of distinction.

LUXURY—A feature most emphasized. Deep thick upholstery, hand-buffed leather, long resilient springs. Comfortable as a big arm chair.

ELECTRIC STARTER—Westinghouse electric, with 120-hour storage battery constantly charged by dynamo. No more cranking. The whole car is controlled from the seat. It's a great car for the family.

COMPLETE EQUIPMENT—Everything you need in a car—electric lights, Warner speedometer, Q. D. demountable rims, plate glass windshield, Mohair top and curtains, foot rest, robe rail, tools, tire irons, etc., etc.

Lost Profits.

This is decidedly a billion-dollar country in what the farmers of the United States hear in these times. Speakers at the Farm Credits' Conference at Chicago told them that American farmers are wasting $1,785,000,000 of their rightful revenue yearly. They are charged with allowing $285,000,000 worth of salable products to go ungathered, and with depriving themselves of $1,500,000,000 by the failure to market their crops on an intelligent co-operative system. It is not denied that they might greatly increase the yield per acre by intensive methods. The boys' corn clubs give a practical demonstration that can not be disputed. A doubling of the corn crop is possible, and other products would respond to similar treatment.

These gains would not involve higher prices to consumers. The advance would be in the quantity and quality of articles raised. A $10,000,000,000 annual crop is now credited to the farmers of this country by the secretary of agriculture. Yet, at least, one of the speakers at Chicago insisted that farmers generally lack business ability and neglect to keep in touch with prompt, accurate business information. This statement should be amended to refer to "some farmers." The average American tiller of the soil is a business man, and often a good one. He is an active one by compulsion if his results are favorable. Secretary Houston, the new head of the Agriculture Department, is about to expand the bureau devoted to marketing products, and the farmer who fails to follow this subject closely will be a poor economist. Knowledge is cash in agriculture as well as power generally.

Having transferred his bill from his pocket to some committee's dustiest pigeon hole, the new congressman feels that he is already doing things.

If Dr. Friedmann has really sold his cure for $1,500,000, it is doubtful if the public will ever be able to buy 100 doses for a dollar.

Much Business to be Done in Circuit Court.

Business was light in the circuit court today. The February term will end tomorrow and Judge Megee and the court officials were busy today getting ready to bring the present term to an end. The May term of court will begin Monday and continue for twelve weeks. The first term of court here since this county was made a separate circuit has been quite successful and Judge Megee is well satisfied with the showing made. Over eighty civil cases and twenty-three cases were disposed of this term of court, which is no mean record for a starter. Judge Megee has thirty cases at issue for the May term.

How One Club Member Uses Her Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet to Save Work

Work Seated

I thought my kitchen was convenient. I did not want a Hoosier Cabinet. Now I would not keep house without one. First, look at this table. See! when I pull it out it locks. I can sit down at work! It is pure aluminum and much bigger than my old table.

Clean Sugar

Now look at this sugar bin. When I take out one scoopful another flows down—always ready. Just like this. The sugar bin is made of rust proof metal and fills from the top here—just like the flour bin but on the other side. The first sugar in is the first sugar out.

Everything Handy

Here is the dish cupboard. You see, even while sitting I can reach up to the highest shelf. It is a whole lot different than walking back and forth for everything, isn't it?

Easily Cleaned

See how easily I can take it apart for cleaning. Simple, isn't it? There is no place for dirt to lodge anywhere. That is why the Hoosier keeps so fresh and clean all the time. I can roll it up to the window or onto the porch if you like, and let sunshine into every corner. The Hoosier is the most sanitary cabinet made.

Dust Proof

Now see! Five seconds after my work is done, everything is shut in behind dust-proof doors. My kitchen looks so much neater and everything is so much more easily kept clean. The cabinet closed takes less room than a kitchen table. It is made of oak and guaranteed not to warp. Lasts a lifetime. I urge you to get one.

Crowds Enroll in Hoosier Club

16 Memberships Setled Eagerly---9 Left---End Is Near

Surprising beyond our expectations is this three day's record of Hoosier Enrollment. Each member has her Hoosier safely installed in her home now—Each is saving miles of steps today, and spending at least two hours less in the kitchen.

PROSECUTION MAY BE STOPPED

Cases Against Vernon Wink Will be Nollod, it is Said, if he Will Leave Knightstown.

CLERK FINED $75 AND COSTS

Drug License is Cancelled and he Can no Longer Operate Store—Recently Fined.

On condition that he sell his drug store and leave the community, according to the Henry county prosecutor, the cases pending against Vernon Wink, the Knightstown druggist, will be nollod. The trial was set for this week, but on the day set for the hearing, they were continued until the October term when they will likely be dismissed.

The Newcastle Star says the prosecuting attorney stated yesterday that he would probably in the future file a motion to dismiss the cases against Wink. He said that he had no desire to persecute the man and as the cases pending were built on the same issues as the case on which he was recently convicted further prosecution would to a large extent be persequation.

Several weeks ago Wink was prosecuted for liquor violations and was fined $50 and costs. The successful prosecution also resulted in the canceling of his license as a pharmacist. The prosecuting attorney yesterday received a letter from Jerome K. Keene, secretary of the state board of pharmacy, stating that Wink's license had been canceled. A letter was sent to him yesterday notifying him of the cancellation of his license and ordering him to cease business.

Porter Ander, a clerk in the Wink store, entered a plea of guilty before Judge Yergin yesterday to the charge of selling liquor unlawfully. He paid a fine of $75 and costs. Anderson's prosecution was based on evidence furnished by an anti-saloon league detective.

ACTS RECEIVED BY CLERK TAYLOR

County's Supply of New Laws Being Distributed—Over One Hundred Volumes For Here.

NEW LAW BOOK IS VERY LARGE

County Clerk Taylor received Rush county's consignment of the acts of the recent legislature this morning. In all probability one hundred volumes were received and they will be distributed to the attorneys, justices, county officials and newspapers. A number of attorneys have already called at the clerk's office and received their volume and the entire lot will soon be distributed. As soon as all the county clerks in the state have reported having received the volumes, Governor Ralston will declare by proclamation that the new laws are in force.

The new book of acts is probably the largest ever issued by the state, being larger than in 1899, when the county council and advisory board acts were passed filling many pages.

MANY PETITIONS ARE TO BE FILED

Indications are That Rushville People Will Clamor for Street Oiling Under New Law.

SHOULD PETITION TO GET IT

A false impression has gone abroad that the new street oiling law makes it mandatory for property owners to petition the city council in order to get their street oiled. The law is the same as regards all public improvements. The council has the power to order the work done if it so desires. But the city officials are authority for the statement that the council will not have any streets oiled unless there is a petition for it, thus indicating that they want the improvement. All oiling will be done under specifications which the city engineer will draw up. Any given number of property owners can have the work done by private contract, with the permission of the city council and under the direction of the city engineer. It is said a number of petitions will be presented at the first meeting of the council in May.

"Perhaps," he assented; "but you will thank me when you realize my weakness. Another man must be found—quick, deft, secret, yet honorably alive to the importance of the occasion and your rights as a great original thinker and mechanic."

"Do you know such a man?"

"I don't; but there must be many such among our workmen."

"There isn't one; and I haven't time to send to Brooklyn. I reckoned on you."

"Can you wait a month?"

"No."

"A fortnight, then?"

"No, not ten days."

Oswald looked surprised. He would like to have asked why such precipitation was necessary, but the tone in which this ultimatum was given was of that decisive character which admits of no argument. He therefore merely looked his query. But Orlando was not one to answer looks; besides, he had no reply for the same importunate question urged by his own good sense. He knew that he must make the attempt upon which his future rested soon, and without risk of the sapping influence of lengthened suspense and weeks of waiting. He could hold on to those two demons leagued in attack against him, for a definite seven days, but not for an indeterminate time. If he were to be saved from folly—from himself—events must rush.

He therefore repeated his "No," with increased vehemence, adding, as he marked the reproach in his brother's eye, "I cannot wait. The test must be made on Saturday evening next, whatever the conditions; whatever the weather. An air-car to be serviceable must be ready to meet lightning and tempest, and what is worse, perhaps, an insufficient crew." Then rising, he exclaimed, with a determination which rendered him majestic, "If help is not forthcoming, I'll do it all myself. Nothing shall hold me back; nothing shall stop me; and when you see me and hear my car rise above the treetops, you'll feel that I have done what I could to make you forget."

He did not need to continue. Oswald understood and flashed a grateful look his way before saying:

"You will make the attempt at night?"

"Certainly."

"And on Saturday?"

"I've said it."

"I will run over in my mind the qualifications of such men as I know and acquaint you with the result tomorrow."

RHEUMA DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

After 25 Years of Misery, This Man Walks, Works and Feels Fine Again.

Right away—the first day you start to take RHEUMA—the Uric Acid poison begins to dissolve and leave the sore joints and muscles. Its action is little less than magical.

RHEUMA works so speedily you actually can feel the Rheumatism leaving the body. A bottle costs but 50 cents, and if you are not satisfied Johnson's Drug Store will return your money. Read this:

"I wish to state to you the facts and nothing but the facts. I bless the day a friend brought me a 50 cent bottle of RHEUMA. I used one-half of it and it did me more good than all the other medicines I ever tried. I had been afflicted with Rheumatism all over my body for more than 25 years; I could not walk, and was a broken-down man. During that time I spent a small fortune trying to be rid of the terrible disease, but without help. However RHEUMA reached my case, and I thank God I can again use my feet and do my work."

"Before taking your medicine I was staying with a daughter on her farm, and despite her loving efforts to tempt my appetite I could not eat. After I had taken RHEUMA two days my appetite returned. Yours for prosperity."—Prof. H. H. Koling, 7 S. Ninth St., Richmond, Ind., Oct. 10, 1912.

"There are adjustments to be made. A man of accuracy is necessary."

"I will remember."

"And he must be likable. I can do nothing with a man with whom I'm not perfectly in accord."

"I understand that."

"Good-night then." A moment of hesitancy, then, "I wish not only yourself but Miss Scott to be present at this test. Prepare for the spectacle; but not yet, not till within an hour or two of the occasion."

And with a proud smile in which he flashed a significance which startled Oswald, he gave a hurried nod and turned away.

When in an hour afterwards, Doris looked in through the open door, she found Oswald sitting with face buried in his hands, thinking so deeply that he did not hear her. He had sat like this, immovable and absorbed, ever since his brother had left him.

CHAPTER XXXV.

Silence—and a Knock.

Oswald did not succeed in finding a man to please Orlando. He suggested one person after another to the exacting inventor, but none were satisfactory to him and each in turn was turned down. It is not every one we want to have share a world-wide triumph or an ignominious defeat. And the days were passing.

He had said in a moment of elation, "I will do it alone;" but he knew even then that he could not. Two hands were necessary to start the car; afterwards, he might manage it alone. Descent was even possible, but to give the contrivance its first lift required a second mechanic. Where was he to find one to please him? And what was he to do if he did not? Conquer his prejudices against such men as he had seen, or delay the attempt, as Oswald had suggested, till he could get one of his old cronies from New York. He could do neither. The obstinacy of his nature was such as to offer an invincible barrier against either suggestion. One alternative remained. He had heard of women aviators. If Doris could be induced to accompany him into the air, instead of clinging sullenly to the weight of Oswald's woe, then would the world behold a triumph which would dwarf the ecstasy of the bird's flight and rob the eagle of his kingly pride. But Doris barely endured his as yet, and the thought was not one to be considered for a moment. Yet what other course remained? He was brooding deeply on the other subject, in his hangar one evening—it was Thursday and Saturday was but two days off) when there came a light knock at the door.

This had never occurred before. He had given strict orders, backed by his brother's authority, that he was never to be intruded upon when in this place; and though he had sometimes encountered the prying eyes of the curious flashing from behind the trees encircling the hangar, his door had never been approached before, or his privacy encroached upon. He started then, when this low but penetrating sound struck across the turmoil of his thoughts, and cast one look in the direction from which it came; but he did not rise, or even change his position on his workman's stool.

Then it came again, still low but with an insistence which drew his brows together and made his hand fall from the wire he had been unconsciously holding through the mental debate which was absorbing him. Still he made no response, and the knocking continued. Should he in-nore it entirely, start up his motor and render himself oblivious to all other sounds? At every other point in his career he would have done this, but an unknown, and as yet unnamed, something had entered his heart during this fatal month, which made old ways impossible and oblivion a thing he dared not court too recklessly. Should this be a summons from Doris! Should (inconceivable idea, yet it seized upon him relentlessly and would not yield for the asking) should it be Doris herself!

Taking advantage of a momentary cessation of the ceaseless tap tap, he listened. Silence was never profounder than in this forest on that windless night. Earth and air seemed, to his strained ear, emptied of all sound. The clatter of his own steady, un-hastened heart-beat was all that broke upon the stillness. He might be alone in the Universe for all token of life beyond these walls, or so he was saying to himself, when sharp, quick, sinister, the knocking recommenced, demanding admission, insisting upon attention, drawing him against his own will to his feet, and finally, though he made more than one stand against it, to the very door.

"Who's there?" he asked, imperiously and with some show of anger.

No answer, but another quiet knock.

"Speak! or go away from my door."

Don't Hide Them With a Veil: Remove Them With The Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by all druggists under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

SERIOUS ERROR IN RUSHVILLE

Rushville Citizens Will do Well to Profit by the Following.

Many fatal cases of kidney disease have reached an incurable stage because the patient did not understand the symptoms. Even today in Rushville there are many residents making the same serious error. They attribute their mysterious aches and pains to overwork, or worry, perhaps, when all the time their rheumatic pains, backache and bladder irregularities are most probably due to weak and ailing kidneys. If you are ill, if your kidneys are out of order, profit by this Rushville's resident's experience.

Mrs. William Merrill, 332 West Fourth St., Rushville, Ind., says: "I suffered for quite awhile from weakness in my back. I had a dull pain over my kidneys, often accompanied by headaches. The simplest of my household duties was a burden. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson's Drug Store and used them. They proved their merits by entirely relieving me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

No one has the right to intrude here. What is your name and business?"

Continued knocking—nothing more. With an outburst of wrath, which made the hangar ring, Orlando lifted his fist to answer this appeal in his own fierce fashion from his own side of the door, but the impulse passed at fulfillment, and he let his arm fall again in a rush of self-hatred which it would have pained his worst enemy, even little Doris, to witness. As it reached his side, the knock came again.

It was too much. With an oath, Orlando reached for his key. But before fitting it into the lock, he cast a look behind him. The car was in plain sight, filling the central space from floor to roof. A single glance from a stranger's eye, and its principal secret would be a secret no longer. He must not run such a risk. Before he answered this call, he must drop the curtain he had rigged up against such emergencies as these. He had but to pull a cord and a veil would fall before his treasure, concealing it as effectually as an Eastern bride is concealed behind her yashmak.

Stepping to the will, he drew that cord, then with an impatient sigh, turned to the door.

Another quiet but insistent knock greeted him.

In no fury now, but with a vague sense of portent which gave an aspect of farewell to the one quick glance he cast about the well-known spot, he fitted the key in the lock, and stood ready to turn it.

"I ask you again your name and business," he shouted out in loud command. "Tell them or—" He meant to say, "or I do not turn this key." But something withheld the threat. He knew that it would perish in the utterance; that he could not carry it out. He would have to open the door now, response or no response.

"Speak!" was the word with which he finished his demand.

A final knock. Pulling a pistol from his pocket, with his left hand, he turned the key with his right.

The door remained unopened.

Stepping slowly back, he stared at its unpainted boards for a moment, then he spoke up quietly, almost courteously:

"Enter."

But the command passed unheeded; the latch was not raised, and only the slightest tap was heard.

With a bound he reached forward and pulled the door open. Then a great silence fell upon him and a rigidity as of the grave seized and stiffened his powerful frame.

The man confronting him from the darkness was Sweetwater.

BUSINESS OF RECALLING.

Columbus Republican: When it is recalled that Albert J. Beveridge went to Michigan for the express purpose of swinging that commonwealth into the progressive (bull moose) column in the recent state election, and when it is further recalled that Albert said he was going to do that very thing, and again, when it is recalled that Michigan went republican by an old-fashioned majority, it is then that the ominous silence of the Beveridge megaphone relative to said election is thoroughly understood. Albert J.'s reputation as a prophet is ruined for ever. Likewise has his erstwhile magic influence waned totally.

READY FOR THE APPEALS COURT

Bill of Exceptions In Dynamite Case Signed.

RECORD OF THE EVIDENCE

Total Volume of Testimony Taken in Recent Trial of Dynamiters at Indianapolis Embraced 27,000 Pages, to Which is Added More Than 3,000 Pages Covered by Indictments. Bill of Exceptions Covering 8,080 Pages.

Indianapolis, April 25.—In federal court Judge Anderson has signed the defendant's bill of exceptions in the dynamite case, the bill containing 8,080 typewritten pages. It will be several days, according to Noble C. Butler, clerk of the federal court, before the bill reaches the United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago, owing to the work of the clerk to be done in connection with the case.

Before the bill was approved by Judge Anderson, United States Attorney Miller said that he had been over the bill carefully and had found that it coincided with the record in the case in the matters, which had been taken from the record. In addition to the more than 8,000 pages of the bill of exceptions, the counts of the indictments, on which the dynamite defendants were convicted, will go to the court of appeals.

The indictments returned by the grand jury covered more than 3,000 pages, but all of this will not be sent for the scrutiny of the appeals court, as the government elected to go to the jury on only counts 2, 4, 7, 15 and 20, charging conspiracy, and counts 63 to 96 inclusive, and 113 to 128 inclusive, charging the direct violation of the statute against carrying explosives on passenger trains engaged in interstate commerce.

The total record of the evidence in the trial embraced 27,000 pages, and the preparation of the bill of exceptions has required months, the limit having been extended three times because of the great amount of work connected with it. United States Attorney Miller went over the bill as offered once, and asked that about 2,000 more pages of record be added. This was done before the district attorney gave his approval.

RETURNED AN INDICTMENT

Grand Jury at Muncie Takes Action in Miss Underwood's Case.

Muncie, Ind., April 25.—Miss Doris Underwood, the young Hartford City school teacher, who last February shot and seriously wounded Otis Fisher, a Muncie drug clerk, because of an alleged wrong done her sister, has been indicted by the grand jury. The return has not been made upon the indictment, but it is understood that the true bill merely charges assault and battery with intent to kill. Many were of the opinion that the grand jury would not indict the young woman.

GOOD MEMORIES OF CORDIAL TREATMENT

Mr. Bryce Leaving America With Regret.

Washington, April 25.—The British ambassador, James Bryce, who left Washington today for England to retire from the diplomatic service, made his farewell appearance before an American audience last night in addressing the American Academy of Science at its fiftieth anniversary dinner. Vice President Marshall also took occasion to extend his reputation as an after dinner speaker, although his remarks were of a lighter vein.

"I am a very unhappy man," said Ambassador Bryce, "because this is the last opportunity I shall have to address an American audience. I am going home now after many happy years spent among you, with good memories of my most cordial treatment here, of my many valued friendships which I shall always cherish. I have always been an earnest student of American affairs and American people, and this interest I shall continue."

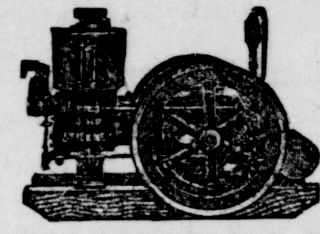

Mr. Bryce's successor as ambassador to the United States is Sir Cecil A. Spring-Rice, who comes with a brilliant record as a diplomat of high rank.
